

Enabling a New Era of Patient Care by Securing Connected Medical Devices

Healthcare Virtual Council

SPEAKERS

Tapan Mehta
Global Leader,
Healthcare Strategy &
Solutions
Palo Alto Networks

Michael Gross
Manager, Cybersecurity
Intelligence
Cleveland Clinic

John Langone
VP Corporate Biomedical
Services
Northwell Health

Steve Craig
Senior Head of Technical Services
Architect
[New York
Presbyterian Hospital](#)

Neal Patel
CIO Health IT
[Vanderbilt University
Medical Center](#)

Ron Fellhauer
Senior Director,
Enterprise Security
Architecture
[Blue Cross Blue
Shield TX](#)

John Chelico MD
System CMO
CommonSpirit Health

Michael Gross
CEO
Engrossed Advisory

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

March 20, 2024

3:00 PM-4:15 PM
Eastern Time

Enabling a New Era of Patient Care by Securing Connected Medical Devices

Healthcare providers around the world are reimagining the patient experience with the use of smart medical devices. While these devices are providing breakthrough improvements in patient outcomes, your role as the security hero/heroine requires protecting those efforts from new threat vectors and vulnerable assets from attacks and exploits. Join this session to share and hear latest industry research, and discuss how to ensure your smartest devices can also be your safest devices.

PANELISTS

Chair

Michael Gross
Manager,
Cybersecurity
Intelligence
Cleveland Clinic

Speaker

Neal Patel
CIO Health IT
Vanderbilt University
Medical Center

Speaker

John Langone
VP Corporate
Biomedical Services
Northwell Health

Speaker

Ron Fellhauer
Senior Director,
Enterprise Security
Architecture
Blue Cross Blue Shield
TX

Speaker

John Chelico MD
System CMIO
CommonSpirit Health

Speaker

Tapan Mehta
Global Leader,
Healthcare Strategy &
Solutions
Palo Alto Networks

Speaker

Steve Craig
Senior Head of Technical Services
Architect
New York Presbyterian
Hospital

TOGETHER WITH

